Assembly Instructions

Step 1: Strip Piecing the Rows

Instead of sewing individual squares, you will sew long strips of fabric together, then slice them into row segments.

1. Cut eight fabric strips in alternating colors (e.g., 4 Light and 4 Dark) to the required length. The width of your strips will dictate the final size of your block.
2. Sew the strips together lengthwise using a consistent $\frac{1}{4}$ - inch seam allowance.
3. Press all of your seams towards the darker fabric.
4. Cut the sewn strips in half.
5. Sew half strips together alternating colors.

Step 2: Cutting the Segments

1. Once your strip set is sewn, lay it flat on your cutting mat.
2. Square off one short end of the strip set, then subcut the strip into 8 equal segments using your rotary cutter.
3. Each of these segments now represents one row of your 8x8 block.

Step 3: Assembling the Block

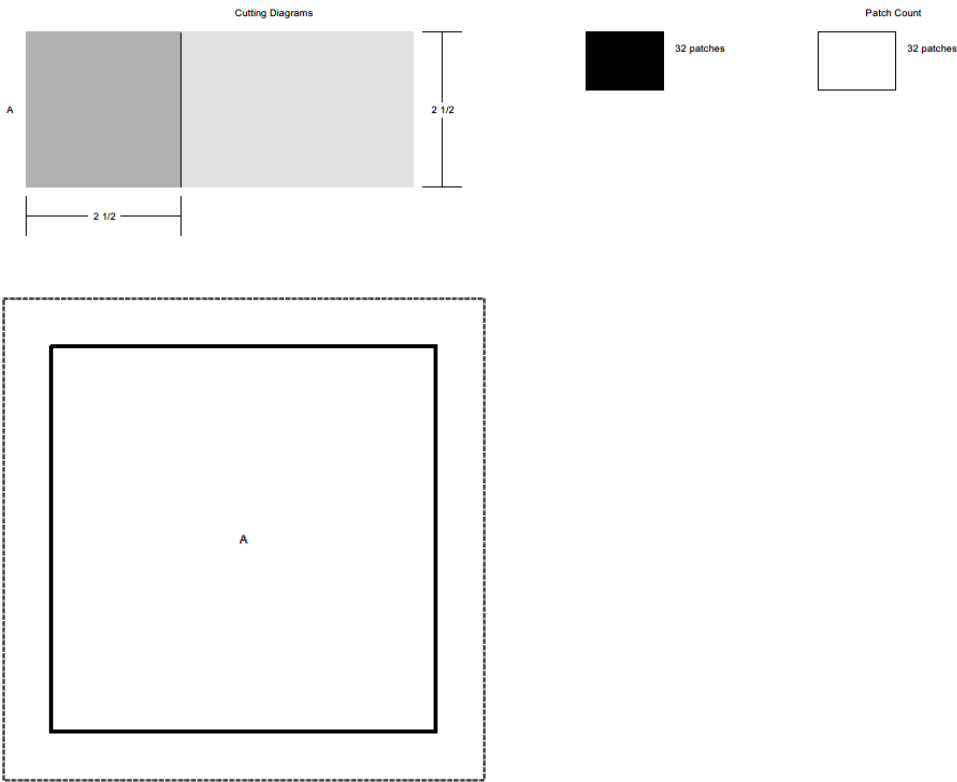

1. Lay out your 8 row segments in front of you.
2. Arrange them in a checkerboard pattern by flipping and rotating every other row.
3. Sew the 8 rows together. Because you pressed all your row seams in one direction in Step 1, the seams on adjacent rows will naturally nest into each other, eliminating bulk and matching corners flawlessly.
4. Press the final block flat.

Pressing Plan

Press towards the darker fabric.

Template Page

I have included this page just in case. The quicker and easier way is described above. To use the template, you would have to cut 64 individual squares and sew them together.
